Market Commentary:

Small- and Mid-Cap companies peaked in price right before the beginning of the fourth quarter in 2018 only to lose 20.12% and 17.28% respectively, as measured by the S&P Small-Cap 600 Index³ and the S&P Mid-Cap 400 Index². Large companies were likewise beaten up in a period that saw the Federal Reserve raise interest rates while inflation didn't seem to warrant the move. Since that change, Treasury security interest rates have inverted in the middle of the curve with one-year securities yielding more than two-year through five-year securities. While we generally take an inversion as a sign of pending economic turmoil, it is usually when the two-year Treasury yields more than the 10-year that causes greatest concern.

Looking deeper into fourth quarter returns, the Utilities sector was the ultimate leader in the period, finishing at a loss of 1.39% in the S&P Mid-Cap 400 Utilities Index, comprised of companies in the index that are classified as members of the GICS® Utilities sector, and a larger loss of 6.28% in the S&P Small-Cap 600 Utilities Index, comprised of companies in the index that are classified as members of the GICS® Utilities sector. The Energy sector lost an astounding 40% plus in both Mid- and Small-Cap indices in the quarter.

With employment remaining strong, consumer confidence stable, and inflation relatively low, current conditions seem comfortable. However, it remains difficult for us to see how the economy might improve with China's growth slowing, consumer expectation weakening, and wage growth beginning to outpace overall inflation. We remain vigilant in our search for opportunities in coming months.

Lighting the Way

Current Strategy

Security Selection Criteria:

The Henssler Equity Fund purchases high-quality, individual common stocks that are generally rated at least "A" by Value Line for financial strength, "A-" by Standard & Poor's for earnings and dividend quality, or "2" by Value Line for safety. The greatest risk to many clients' portfolios is the potential bankruptcy of any company whose stock they hold. Our firm's strategy seeks to manage client risk by using established stock ratings to guide purchases.

Fund Performance:

During the quarter ending December 31, 2018, total return for The Henssler Equity Fund was down 14.04% versus the S&P 500¹, which was down 13.52%, and the S&P Mid-Cap 400², which was down 17.28%. The Fund benefited from strong relative performance in the Utilities, Communication Services, and Consumer Staples sectors.

For the year ending December 31, 2018, the total return for The Henssler Equity Fund was -11.55% versus the S&P 500¹, which was -4.37% and the S&P Mid-Cap 400², which was -11.04%. The Fund benefited from strong relative performance in the one-year period in the Utilities, Real Estate, and Communication Services sectors.

The Fund experienced an intentional change in investment style from large company stocks to small- and mid-sized company stocks, according to market capitalization. The proper performance benchmark is, therefore, mixed between the S&P 500 and S&P 400 indices. Longer term returns are best measured against the S&P 500 while shorter term performance should be measured against the S&P 400.

Morningstar proprietary ratings reflect historical risk-adjusted performance as of December 31, 2018. For each fund with at least a three-year history, Morningstar calculates a Morningstar Rating™ based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a fund's monthly performance (including the effects of sales charges, loads, and redemption fees), placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of funds in each category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. (Each share class is counted as a fraction of one fund within this scale and rated separately, which may cause slight variations in the distribution percentages.) The Overall Morningstar Rating for a fund is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five- and ten-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The Henssler Equity Fund was rated against the following numbers of U.S.-domiciled Mid-Cap Blend funds over the following time periods: 382 funds in the last three years, 335 funds over the past five-years and 235 funds over the past 10 years. With respect to these Mid-Cap Blend funds, The Henssler Equity Fund received a Morningstar Rating of two stars for the three-year period, three stars for ¹Beta is a measure of risk. It measures the relationship between a fund's excess return over T-bills and the excess return of the benchmark index. Equity funds are compared with the S&P 500 index. By definition, the beta of the benchmark (in this case, an index) is 1.00. Accordingly, a fund with a 1.10 beta has performed 10% better than its benchmark index—after deducting the T-bill rate—than the index in up markets and 10% worse in down markets, assuming all other factors remain constant. Conversely, a beta of 0.85 indicates that the fund has performed 15% worse than the index in up markets and 15% better in down markets.

Definitions of Valuations:

Standard & Poor's Earnings & Dividend Rank

This is S&P's computerized measure of common stocks based mainly on 10-year earnings and dividend performance (not to be confused with S&P debt ratings). Rankings are as follows: A+ Highest; A High; A- Above Average; B+ Average; B Below Average; B- Lower; C Lowest; D In Reorganization; NR No ranking

Value Line Financial Strength Rating

A relative measure of financial strength of the companies reviewed by Value Line. The relative ratings range from A++ (strongest) down to C (weakest), in nine steps.

Value Line Safety Rank

A measurement of potential risk associated with individual common stocks. The Safety Rank is computed by averaging Value Line's Price Stability Index and the Financial strength Rating. Safety Ranks range from 1 (Highest) to 5 (Lowest). Conservative investors should try to limit their purchases to equities ranked 1 (Highest) and 2 (Above Average) for Safety.
